Smitty & Flicka Arrive...

This month two more horses arrived from Faith Equine Rescue, who obtained them from the Polk County Sheriff's Office.

Smitty, a 23-year-old Quarter Horse gelding, was seized after being beaten over the head with 2x4s and glass bottles. He still had glass embedded between his ears after arriving at FER.

Flicka, a 25-year-old Quarter Horse mix mare, was found abandoned and emaciated.

Smitty and Flicka now call Rebecca's Meadow home. Not sure where that is? Check out our new map!

Finishing Touch...

There have been memorials written in newspapers and by friends and the planting of two beautiful camellias to commemorate the life of Peter Gregory. But there was one last thing that Mary, his wife and co-founder of RHH, wanted. A simple yet beautiful sign, carved in wood, placed in the Field of Dreams, to honor Peter, to stand as a memorial, and to let all who walk there know that this little piece of heaven exists because of the dream and hard work of this man, "who dedicated his life and his love to the animals of Mill Creek Farm."

Visitor Friendly...

We just completed two projects. The map in the left column was a gift from a sponsor who hired Tom Weinkle of Vortex Communications (vortexmiami.com) in Miami to create a visual masterpiece with our new visitor guide; it is available at the Welcome Kiosk.

The other project was quite an undertaking. Each pasture now has a bio with the history of each horse so that everyone will know their story. A special thanks to our volunteer, Lynne Brennan, who spent countless hours designing, writing, printing and laminating the bios and Shane Willis who created the display stands for them – in addition to creating our directional signs to correspond with our new map.
